

Four SKOCH Awards for Ministry of Tribal Affairs

MINISTRY OF TRIBAL AFFAIRS E-GOVERNANCE

The Ministry of Tribal Affairs is not the first place that would come to mind as a torch bearer in e-Governance. Yet, the SKOCH evaluation 2020, reveals that it has transformed. Apart from digitalising all processes, it has become completely paperless. It uses tools like database monitoring; communicates with states online; and, updates dashboards on a real-time basis - available across PRAYAS-PMO Dashboard, NITI Aayog, and DBT Mission. Its initiatives include: digitalisation of the entire scholarship process benefiting 64-lakh tribal students; one-stop solution presenting health and nutrition status of tribal population on Swasthya Portal; and, an e-Repository of all its projects. In addition to facilitating online monitoring, it has created a pool of knowledge as the Tribal Digital Document Repository for affirmative action-integration. This e-transformation is leading to an outcome-based improvement.

In a unique project - Ice Stupa - the ministry with the involvement of local community has managed to solve the water problem in Ladakh region by way of storing frozen meltwater in winter months to be used during spring sowing season. 26 Stupas built so far have stored 60 million litre of water that has brought relief to 35 villages.
